

Rialto Energy

Neil Hackett has been appointed as acting non-executive director for Rialto Energy, replacing Glenn Whiddon who decided to step down to pursue other business interests.

Hackett is currently joint company secretary for the company and has over 20 years experience in resources, diversified industrials and financial services.

Hackett will act as non-executive director while the Rialto searches for a suitable replacement.